INTRODUCTION

The Recreation and Sport Branch of Alberta Community Development is pleased to provide the 1995 Sport and Recreation Resource Guide. It was developed in order to improve communication and coordination among sport and recreation organizations and agencies in Alberta.

The guide identifies major organizations providing services to the sport and recreation community in the province. It is hoped that this document will assist associations and interested individuals in the utilization of available programs.

Appreciation is extended to all organizations and agencies that took time to supply information for inclusion in this guide. Without their contribution, this project would not have been possible.

The compilation of information is accurate at the time of printing. However, due to a constantly changing sport and recreation scene, some details in the material are subject to change.

ALBERTA HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Funded by a $100 million endowment from the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund, the Alberta Heritage Scholarship Fund is designed to stimulate the pursuit of excellence by recognizing outstanding achievement and by encouraging and assisting Albertans to achieve their fullest potential - whether intellectual, cultural, social or physical. The following is a brief description of the scholarship program specific to athletes.

Jimmie Condon Athletic Scholarships

Approximately 1,200 scholarships valued at $1,000 each are awarded to students at universities, colleges, and technical institutes. Students must be members of designated teams, or be recognized under the Alberta Athlete Development Program either as members of a provincial disabled athlete team or as a participant in designated sports.

Charles S. Noble Junior Football Scholarships

A total of 30 scholarships valued at $1,000 each are awarded to junior football players who are currently enrolled full-time in a post-secondary institution in Alberta and are nominated by their team. The awards are co-sponsored by the Alberta Scholarship Fund and the three Alberta teams in the Junior Football League.

Charles S. Noble Scholarship for College Hockey
Scholarships valued at $1,000 each are awarded to participants in college hockey who are enrolled full-time and are nominated by their team. The awards are co-sponsored by the Alberta Heritage Scholarship Fund and the Alberta Colleges Athletic Conference.

Charles S. Noble Junior "A" Hockey Scholarships

Five scholarships of $650 are awarded to individuals who have participated in Junior "A" Hockey and who are currently enrolled in full-time post-secondary study in Alberta. Nominations are made by their respective team. The awards are co-sponsored by the Alberta Heritage Scholarship Fund and the Junior "A" Hockey League.

Bill Hunter Scholarship

One scholarship valued at $1,000 is awarded to a full-time student attending the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology who best exemplifies athletic and leadership qualities as well as academic achievement. Students should contact the awards office at N.A.I.T. regarding nomination procedures.

Rollie Miles Scholarship

One scholarship valued at $1,000 is available to reward an Edmonton high school graduate who best exemplifies academic and athletic excellence and is pursuing post-secondary study in a Faculty of Physical Education. Nomination information is available from Edmonton high school counsellors.

ALBERTA MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

ALBERTA REGISTRIES

CORPORATE REGISTRY

Corporate Registry of Alberta Municipal Affairs is responsible for the administration of the Societies Act. Along with the advantages of incorporating there are also responsibilities. If an association does not live up to those responsibilities, Corporate Registry could cancel its registration.

A society can find out some of its duties by calling Corporate Registry's 24-hour telephone system. This touch tone system is called Corporate Link. It lets callers listen to recorded messages. The Corporate Link number in Edmonton is (403) 427-2311. In Calgary, associations can reach Corporate Link at (403) 297-3442. Callers can listen to detailed information on societies by selecting topic 7725.

Here are some of the responsibilities of a registered society:

1. Annual General Meetings

Societies must hold a general meeting every year. The society must present a financial statement to the members. This statement must include the society's income, expenses, assets, and liabilities. The society's auditor must sign the financial statement.

2. Annual Returns

Each year, a society must file an annual return at Corporate Registry. Corporate Registry will mail an annual return form to the society. If a society does not receive its annual return, it can get one from Corporate Registry. To order annual return forms, dial Corporate Link in Calgary or Edmonton and select topic 7500.

The society must send its annual return to Corporate Registry. It must include the following:

$8.00 filing fee.

Names, addresses and positions of current officers and/or directors.

To find out more about annual returns listen to Corporate Link topic 7735.

3. Registered Office

A society must have a registered office address in Alberta. If this address changes, the society must file an address change at Corporate Registry within 15 days. To order address change forms, call Corporate Link and select topic 7500.

To find out more about the registered office address listen to Corporate Link topic 7735.

4. Registry of Members

A society must keep a membership register. The register must include:

The name and address of each member.
The start date and end date of the membership.
The type of membership, if the society has different types of membership.

The society must keep the membership register at the registered office. It must be available for the members to look at.

ALBERTA LOTTERIES AND GAMING

Funding provided by the Government of Alberta from the Alberta Lottery Fund makes possible a wide variety of tourism, cultural, recreational, agricultural, sport and related community initiatives.

Each year, the Lottery Fund provides financial support to a wide variety of umbrella foundation agencies, organizations and programs, which in turn participate in the disbursement of over 2,000 grants province-wide. Such agencies and organizations include:

- Alberta Sport, Recreation, Parks and Wildlife Foundation Edmonton: (403) 453-6232
- Tourism Industry Association of Alberta Calgary: (403) 250-2760
- Alberta Foundation for the Arts Edmonton: (403) 427-9968

ALBERTA GAMING COMMISSION

The Alberta Gaming Commission licenses bingos, casinos, pull ticket and raffle events. Only charitable or religious organizations may be licensed to conduct these activities and the proceeds must be used for charitable or religious purposes.

A group must submit an application for review. Each application is reviewed on its own merit. The following guidelines are used to assist in the review.

1. Nature of Group

A "charity" provides a public service or community benefit.

2. Membership, Programs and Structure

Membership in the group must be voluntary. The executive must be chosen from its volunteer base. Members, directors, and officers must not be paid. Programs must benefit the community, not the members' self-interest.

The group must be not-for-profit, and have a broad based volunteer membership. The volunteers establish, maintain and deliver the group's programs.

ALBERTA ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND TOURISM

COMMUNITY AND INDUSTRY INITIATIVES SECTION

This section is responsible for ensuring a solid tourism foundation is developed and maintained at the community and regional level. This section facilitates and assists communities to plan and implement tourism initiatives which provide new and expanded economic opportunities for the area and which create partnerships and significant private sector opportunities.

This section also provides tourism industry advocacy and facilitates the development, growth and enhancement of provincial tourism industry sector associations so that these associations are strong and continually able to meet the challenges of the future.

Provincial Sport and Recreation Associations

Alberta

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
Community Services Division

PROVINCIAL SPORT AND RECREATION ASSOCIATIONS

Provincial Sport and Recreation Associations are involved in the direct delivery of programs to any organizations or individuals of a sport or recreational activity. In most of these programs, manuals or written materials are available. To determine the exact programs and materials offered by individual associations refer to the list of contact addresses and telephone numbers that follow.

SPORT ASSOCIATIONS

The following is a listing of the range of programs offered by the provincial sport associations.

1. Pre-Certification Courses
These courses cover introductory technical information on sport activities and are lead-up courses for the National Coaching Certification Program (N.C.C.P.) technical courses.
2. Technical Courses (N.C.C.P.)
These courses deal with the technical aspects of the sport activity.
 - a) Coaching Courses - are designed to increase the technical knowledge of coaches.
 - b) Instructor Courses - are designed to train persons involved in the teaching of introductory skill courses.
 - c) Course Conductor Courses - are designed to train persons involved in teaching instructor courses.
3. Coaching Clinics
These clinics assist those coaches involved in sport activities that are currently not part of the National Coaching Certification Program (N.C.C.P.).
4. Official Clinics
These clinics and workshops are for umpires, referees, judges and other officials involved in a specific sport.
5. Master Coach and Official Program
This program brings experienced coaches and officials to Alberta and/or sends leading Alberta coaches and officials to workshops and clinics outside Alberta.
6. Introductory Skill Courses
These courses are designed to introduce basic skills to new individuals learning the activity and to improve the skills of individuals already exposed to the sport activity.
7. Sport Outreach
This program includes the staging of exposure clinics, training clinics and leadership development in parts of rural Alberta where the need exists.
8. Public Education Programs
These programs are designed to make the general public aware of programs, services and materials available from provincial sport or recreation associations.
9. Talent Identification
This program involves the identification of athletes who display the greatest potential for excellence in their sport. The identification of athletes is done through the establishment of tests and standards.
10. Training of High Performance Athletes
This program provides support and encouragement to associations to develop and implement ongoing training programs for high performance athletes.
11. Athlete Development Program
A number of sport associations provide support to their high performance athletes so they can achieve national team ranking.
12. Athlete Clinics and Camps
Certain sport associations offer advanced level clinics and camps aimed at upgrading athlete skill and expertise. These camps are designed to assist athletes in reaching higher levels of competition.
13. Sport Training Centres
Certain sport associations are involved in establishing national, regional and provincial training centres in Alberta.
14. Competition Programs
Sport associations provide competitions in their sport at the regional, provincial, national and international levels.
15. Program Materials
A wide range of materials are provided by most provincial sport associations. This may include rule books, tournament guides, equipment and facility standards, newsletters, instructors, coaches and officials manuals.

RECREATION ASSOCIATIONS

The following is a list of the range of programs offered by the provincial recreation associations.

1. Recreation Programs
As part of the association's services, recreation programs are run for association members or the general public.
2. Outreach Programs
These programs are intended to introduce and develop recreation opportunities and activities in parts of Alberta where the need exists.
3. Instructor Training Clinics
These clinics are aimed at upgrading the skills of individuals involved in instructing recreational activities.
4. Technical Training Courses
These courses, which deal with the technical aspects of the recreation activity, are offered at the instructor and course conductor level.
5. Competitions
Some recreation associations provide competition in their activity at the regional, provincial, national and international levels.
6. Officials Clinics
These clinics and workshops are for judges and other officials involved in a specific recreation activity.
7. Program Materials
A wide range of materials, including program brochures and booklets, newsletters, instructors manuals and competition guides are provided by most provincial recreation associations.
8. Services to Clubs
Most provincial recreation associations provide programs and services with or to clubs located in communities throughout Alberta. The clubs provide recreation programs directly to Albertans.

Provincial Support Organizations

PROVINCIAL SUPPORT ORGANIZATIONS

The following provincial recreation and sport associations also provide support opportunities to interested individuals, agencies and organizations in Alberta.

ALBERTA ASSOCIATION OF RECREATION FACILITY PERSONNEL

This is a voluntary association of people who work in various recreation facilities within Alberta. Recreation personnel and recreation facilities operators can join this association. The major goal of the association is to provide a communication link among those who work in the field, so that service to clients is as advanced as possible. The association shares information about what works best, what provides the most effective operation, upgrades the skill levels of its members, and stays abreast of the new technologies.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES:

1. Newsletter

A newsletter is published five times a year entitled Leisure Lines. The articles inform and keep members aware of what is happening in Alberta, other provinces and around the world.

2. Meetings

Each of the eight Zone Representatives holds a variety of meetings each year, to which all members of that zone are invited. The topics of discussion cover the needs of all individuals who attend.

3. Workshop/Trade Show

An annual workshop is held at the annual general meeting. There is a broad spectrum of ideas and information presented. Opportunities to share successes with colleagues are an important aspect of this conference.

4. Courses

Level I and II parks, arena and swimming pool operators courses and a sports field operators course are offered. A course has been developed for "front-line" supervisors and further development of sports field/park management issues. All of the courses are offered with the cooperation of Alberta Community Development.

5. Reports

The association has completed a report on the "Operational Guidelines for Public Aquatic Facilities." A study on air quality in indoor swimming pools is also available. Facility operators in Alberta receive the "Recreation Facility Operations Manual" dealing with energy management in facilities.

6. New Initiatives

Facility Advisory Services - Alberta is currently being developed. This program will provide facility advice on a variety of operational, maintenance and planning issues. Further information will be available as the program becomes more concrete.

ALBERTA RECREATION AND PARKS ASSOCIATION

The Alberta Recreation and Parks Association (ARPA) is a voluntary, non-profit organization of individuals, and agencies concerned with the development of municipal parks, recreation and leisure services in Alberta.

The ARPA is concerned with providing services in the areas of information, education and advocacy. In order to keep individuals up-to-date about new ideas and changes, ARPA publishes a quarterly magazine, issues news releases and has an information service. The ARPA also provides training opportunities for practitioners and elected/appointed officials. In addition, ARPA fulfills an advocacy role in dealing with trends and issues affecting its members and the industry of recreation and parks.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES:

1. Recreation Alberta

Recreation Alberta is a quality magazine which relays information about the association, people and events, government activities and programs, leadership training and skills, and other resource material about recreation, parks and leisure. Each issue is dedicated to a theme relating to recreation, parks and leisure.

2. Awards

Eight awards are presented to individuals and communities who have contributed to the development of parks, recreation and leisure in Alberta.

3. Scholarships

Three scholarships are awarded annually to individuals furthering their studies in recreation and leisure. The AABRD scholarships focus on special needs studies.

4. Publications

Resource publications are produced on topical issues and a number of resource/source books are available. The Benefits of Recreation resource is a significant resource for the industry.

5. ARPA Conference and Exhibit Show

This is an annual conference where primary emphasis is placed on the educational component. The association's annual business is attended to at the annual general meeting. In conjunction with the conference, there is the Recreation and Parks Product and Services Exhibit. Here, representatives of companies that provide products and services to recreation and parks agencies display their wares.

6. Information Referral System

This is a system of information referral to provide people in the recreation, parks and leisure industry with ideas and information. A computer on-line service will be available soon.

7. Special Interest Committees

Through ARPA there are opportunities to voluntarily serve on one of three committees catering to the needs of specialized groups within the recreation, parks and leisure structure. These include: Parks Information; Recreation Information; and Special Needs.

8. Educational Seminars/Workshops

A number of educational opportunities are either sponsored by ARPA or co-sponsored in conjunction with allied organizations. These focus on professional development and the exploration of emerging issues.

9. Lobbying Network and Advocacy

In an attempt to affect the decisions made on provincial recreation directions, ARPA, on behalf of its members, has developed and implemented a lobbying network. It provides an avenue for the members to express their opinions to the decision makers.

10. "Energize" Education Program

This education program is co-sponsored with Alberta Community Development and delivers services to municipal elected officials and recreation board volunteers. It includes workshops, streams in the A.R.P.A. Conference and research and information services.

ALBERTA UNIVERSITIES ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Alberta Universities Athletic Association is made up of the Universities of Alberta, Calgary and Lethbridge and has as its purpose the organization of interuniversity athletic competition among member institutions and to coordinate association, western Canadian regional, and national championships in cooperation with the Canada West Universities Athletic Association (CWUAA) and the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union (CIAU).

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES:

- Sending selected coaches to national coaching meetings and clinics;
- funding university teams to regional, national and international competitions.

Individual member universities offer coaching clinics, athlete development opportunities, youth sport camps, individual sport training centres and athlete testing programs.

A publicity brochure outlines the athletic programs offered at the three AUAA member universities.

RESOURCES FOR COMPUTER APPLICATIONS IN SPORT AND RECREATION

Computers have become an integral part of our lives, affecting every aspect of society including sport and recreation. Teachers, coaches and administrators will find that applied technology offers many benefits including increased effectiveness and productivity. In Alberta, there is a not-for-profit research group which is devoted to enhancing and encouraging the development of computer applications in sport and recreation.

COMPUTERIZED SPORT SYSTEMS GROUP

The Computerized Sport Systems Group (CSSG), Faculty of Physical Education, the University of Calgary, conducts research into the use of multimedia technology in Physical Education and promotes the development of computer applications in sport and recreation. CSSG has a software resource list for interested individuals. In addition, the Sport Information Resources Catalogue (SIRC) online database is available on CD-ROM and a copy is retained in the University of Calgary McKimmie Library Information Centre.

ALBERTA CENTRE FOR WELL-BEING

The Alberta Centre for Well-Being (ACFWB) is a provincial organization mandated to enhance the health and well-being of Albertans by providing leadership and creating educational, research and networking opportunities for well-being professionals.

The Centre was established in 1989 and has grown to support a network membership of close to 5,000 people, including national and international wellness professionals. The Centre is located in Edmonton at the Percy Page Centre and is supported primarily by the Alberta Sport, Recreation, Parks and Wildlife Foundation (ASRPWF).

The ACFWB relies heavily on community partners to deliver the well-being message to all regions of the province. Partners include the University of Alberta, the University of Calgary, the University of Lethbridge, the Be Fit For Life Network, the Alberta Cancer Board, and the Health Units in Alberta.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES:

1. The Network

The ACFWB has an established data base of close to 5,000 leaders in the area of well-being. The Network was designed to establish links between individuals, groups and agencies concerned with health promotion and the well-being movement. Benefits to members include:

- Opportunities to network with other professionals in health and wellness promotion.
- Access to the latest available resources.
- Summaries of the current research in health promotion, active living and recreation benefits.
- Assistance with challenges facing professionals in health promotion and well-being.
- Workshops and other educational opportunities that address relevant and leading edge topics.
- Tips for improving personal well-being and health lifestyle.
- Involvement in a professional organization that is unique to Alberta, and that is dedicated to promoting personal well-being.

2. The Resource Centre

The Resource Centre provides a wide range of information services to professionals working in the field. Services offered include:

Wellness Library

Housed in the Edmonton office, the lending library for Network members offers over 1,000 separate books, manuals, kits, videos, reports and guides. The library also contains over 1,000 separate volumes of journals, newsletters, magazines and bulletins, including resources developed by the ACFWB. Resources can be couriered around the province on a C.O.D. basis.

1-800 Number

The toll free 1-800 lines receive enquiries from across the province. Practitioners are encouraged to phone in for information and resources in the areas of health promotion and active living at 1-800-661-4551.

Speaker Registry

An established Speakers Registry helps organizers locate speakers for special events, workshops and conferences. Well-being professionals from around the province keep their resumes on file with the Centre so they will be available for program planners who are looking for speakers on the various topics related to well-being.

3. Education

The education mandate of the ACFWB includes a wide range of programs and resources for the well-being professional.

Publications

Well Spring

Well Spring is a quarterly newsletter which provides profiles and features on topics and issues in the areas of well-being, active living, health promotion, social marketing and benefits of recreation, to list a few. Subscriptions are available for a small fee.

Research Update

The Research Update is a bi-monthly publication produced in partnership with the Cancer Prevention program of the Alberta Cancer Board. This update profiles current research in health promotion and cancer prevention.

Resource Publications

- Working Towards Well-Being - Benefits and Success Indicators
- Working Towards Well-Being - Workplace Well-Being Resource Guide
- Bulletin on Active Living in the Workplace (Numbers 1-7)
- Working Towards Well-Being - Well-Being Research Update (Numbers 1-5)

Workshops and Conferences

The ACFWB organizes professional development workshops and provides speakers to promote wellness in the community special events and conferences. Topics include, among other things:

- What is well-being?
- Evaluating your programs
- Conducting needs assessments
- Workplace active living
- Community health promotion

Wellness Check

The Centre provides the Alberta Lotteries Wellness Check, a computerized health risk appraisal tool that gives individuals a personalized printout rating their overall health and well-being. The generated report geared to teens or adults, helps raise awareness about personal health risks and gives suggestions to help choose an improved lifestyle.

Wellness Wagon

The Wellness Wagon is a mobile interactive display featuring the Wellness Check and resources on health, well-being and active living. The Wagon travels the province in the spring/summer in cooperation with community partners such as the Be Fit For Life Network, regional health units, municipalities and recreation departments.

4. Research

Research is an important part of the work of the Alberta Centre for Well-Being. The Centre is committed to facilitating the link between research and practice in the health promotion area, with a specific emphasis on physical activity and active living.

Reports highlighting current research initiatives are released by the Centre on a regular basis. Some recent reports include:

- 1992 Survey of Workplace Physical Activity and Health Promotion Programs
- 1993 Alberta Active Living Survey Results
- Benefits of Recreation Research Update

CALGARY OLYMPIC DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

The Calgary Olympic Development Association (C.O.D.A.) is a non-profit organization under the Societies Act of Alberta. It was first formed to submit a bid to host the 1964 Olympic Games in Banff. After two more unsuccessful bids to host the 1968 and 1972 Games, C.O.D.A. submitted the winning bid for the 1988 Winter Olympic Games held in Calgary.

C.O.D.A. is now responsible for the management of the Legacy of the XV Winter Olympic Games.

C.O.D.A.'s major objectives are to:

- manage the Calgary Olympic legacy;
- operate and maintain the Canada Olympic Park and other facilities deemed necessary for Olympic development;
- to foster the development of Canadian athletes, world class competitors, and facilities;
- administer the Olympic Endowment Fund;
- provide assistance to maintain, promote and expand Olympic facilities;
- encourage the formation of sport clubs and to assist in the development of programs to produce a high standard of excellence among Canadian athletes, coaches and officials;
- encourage and assist Canadian Amateur Athletic Organizations to bid for, promote and stage local, regional, national and international competitions in all Olympic winter sports;
- foster Olympic ideals.

Agencies*

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

A number of federal government departments and sponsored agencies specifically cater to the needs of the national sport and recreation associations. However, several of these programs and services may also be accessed by provincial associations.

FITNESS DIRECTORATE

MANDATE

Fitness and Active Living is a Directorate within the Health Programs and Services Branch, Health Canada. Its purpose is to encourage, promote and develop Active Living in Canada, thereby improving the overall fitness, health, well-being and quality of life of Canadians.

STRATEGIC GOALS

The Fitness Directorate has four principle goals, which are:

1. To increase the knowledge of the determinants and the impact of physical activity on individual health and well-being;
2. To enhance the physical, social, political and economic environments, values and norms of Canadian society in support of lifelong participation in physical activity;
3. To strengthen and support the capacity of the physical activity system to meet the physical activity needs of Canadians and integrate physical activity into daily life; and,
4. Increase equity and access to a broad range of physical activity opportunities, especially those populations which face barriers to participation.

ROLES

The Fitness Directorate assumes several roles in the pursuit of its goals.

DIRECT ROLES

Federal Policy Formulation - investigation, analysis and recommendation of policy actions undertaken by the Government of Canada in addressing the active living needs of Canadians.

Planning and Evaluation - assessment of environmental issues and pressures, review of internal workplans and formulation of strategic approaches, and evaluation frameworks to address specific issue areas.

Funding - the provision of a financial support program for organizations and initiatives addressing certain priority areas in active living.

Government Collaboration - collaborative actions undertaken with other federal government departments and the establishment of joint ventures with provincial and territorial governments.

SHARED ROLES WITH ACTIVE LIVING MILIEU

National Planning - through consultations and consensus-building exercises, the formulation of national master plans to address common interest areas of active living milieu.

Research - supporting the Canadian Fitness and Lifestyle Research Institute to address the research community.

Promotion and Communications - support to ParticipACTION for the provision of public service announcement campaigns for print, radio and television, the Canada's Summer and Winter Active, and other communication devices to inform Canadians and encourage them to adopt active living.

Infrastructure Development - support to key national organizations and initiatives which will improve the delivery of active living programs and services so that more inactive Canadians are affected.

HUMAN RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT CANADA

Non-profit organizations interested in hiring staff have access to a variety of programs offered through the Canadian Jobs Strategy.

The Summer Employment/Experience Development (SEED) program is designed to create career development opportunities and to promote practical work experience for students.

The Employability Improvement program is intended to increase employability, and facilitate the successful integration into appropriate employment of selected individuals who require assistance to overcome labour market barriers.

Both programs are based on a contribution agreement between the organization and Human Resources Development Canada. Applications to these, and a variety of other related programs, are accepted on an ongoing basis and are dependent on the availability of funds.

NATIONAL SUPPORT AGENCIES

COACHING ASSOCIATION OF CANADA

Formed in 1971, the Coaching Association of Canada (CAC) provides expertise and guidance in the development of coaching education programs, services and publications to improve coaching effectiveness. The primary objectives for the future are focussed at improvement, implementation and delivery of the National Coaching Certification Program (NCCP) and establishment of coaching as a viable career within the Canadian sport system.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES:

1. National Coaching Certification Program
This five level educational program is for coaches at all levels in over 60 sports: Levels 1 through 3 are for coaches of developing athletes; Levels 4 and 5 are for coaches of high performance athletes. The NCCP is developed and implemented through the combined efforts of the Federal and Provincial/Territorial Governments, the National and Provincial/Territorial Sport Organizations and the CAC.

2. National Coaching Apprenticeship Program
This program offers grants to Canadian coaches to study advanced coaching theory under the tutelage of a master coach.
3. National Coaches' Seminar
This annual conference provides advanced education for national coaches and coaches of carded athletes.
4. NCCP Trainers Conference
A conference for NCCP Theory and Technical Course conductors. This conference provides advanced training and delivery skills.
5. Career Development for Women in Coaching
This program is designed to increase employment opportunities by providing wage subsidies and professional development grants to women in coaching.
6. Special Education Projects Program
This program provides grants for national level coaches to complete an individually tailored program related to high-performance coaching.
7. National Coaching Institutes
The CAC supervises the operation of National Coaching Institutes accredited at five universities. The Institutes offer Level 4 certification and a Master's Degree in coaching, which combines sport science, sport specific coaching theory and practical coaching. A one-year diploma program for non-degree candidates is also available. Coaching scholarships are available.
8. Coach Recognition Program
This program acknowledges and rewards outstanding contributions to coaching at the community, provincial and national levels.
9. Community Coaching Conferences
Assistance is offered to communities to upgrade coaching education at the developmental level.

CANADIAN PARALYMPIC COMMITTEE

The Canadian Paralympic Committee (CPC) is a not-for-profit corporation recognized by the International Paralympic Committee of Canada. The CPC is responsible for all aspects of Canada's involvement in the Paralympic movement, including Canadian participation in the Summer and Winter Paralympic Games. The Paralympics are the ultimate goal in athletic competition for athletes with a physical disability. The Games have been hosted at the same sites as the Olympics since 1988 for summer, and 1992 for winter. There are more than 90 countries worldwide involved in the Paralympics.

Paralympic Games

The CPC selects the teams that compete for Canada at the Summer and Winter Paralympic Games. The Committee supports the teams in all aspects to ensure that athletes are able to perform at their best. This includes transportation to and from the host city, supplying team uniforms, housing and meals, and providing a wide range of administrative and medical support.

Paralympic Sports in Canada

The CPC provides support on an on-going basis to all national sport federations for Paralympic sports in Canada. The CPC members include:

Canadian Amputee Sports Association
Canadian Association for Athletes with a Mental Handicap
Canadian Association for Disabled Skiing
Canadian Blind Sports Association Incorporated
Canadian Association for Disabled Skiing
Canadian Deaf Sports Association
Canadian Therapeutic Riding Association
Canadian Wheelchair Sports Association
Canadian Cerebral Palsy Sports Association
Canadian Wheelchair Basketball Association
Racquetball Canada
Swim Nation Canada

Fundraising and Marketing

The CPC is responsible for raising the revenue required, through marketing, grants, and donations, to fully support Canada's Summer and Winter Paralympic teams, as well as for supporting the development of the Paralympic movement in Canada.

The Paralympic Logo

Three coloured drops are the logo of the International Paralympic Committee (IPC) and symbolize people with a disability around the world striving for international friendship and strength through unity. The configuration represents the three disability groups united in the IPC: locomotor, sensory and mentally handicapped. The horizontal configuration represents equality and humanity. The IPC logo and all that it represents is incorporated into the Maple Leaf to be distinctly Canadian.

International Involvement

Major Games:

The Committee assists its member sports with international games or competitions by providing a wide range of expertise and services in the areas of administration, medical support, transportation, and communications.

International Paralympic Committee:

Canada continues to play a prominent role in the development and evolution of the IPC. Currently, there are four Canadian members on the Executive Committee, including IPC President Dr. Robert Steadward.

Inclusion

The CPC works with other organizations to ensure inclusion of athletes with a disability in able-bodied sport in Canada and abroad. For example, as a direct result of the CPC's efforts, events for athletes with a disability in athletics and swimming were included in the 1993 Canada Games for the first time. At the 1995 Canada Games, wheelchair basketball and alpine skiing were a part of the program.

Host Organizing Committee Assistance

Should a Canadian city bid to host a Paralympic Games, the CPC will assist the city to win the rights. If the city is successful, the CPC will work in concert with the successful candidate to ensure that all standards are met for a successful games.

CANADIAN INTERUNIVERSITY ATHLETIC UNION

Formed in 1961, the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union (CIAU) is the national governing body for university sport in Canada and is composed of the majority of degree granting universities in the country. It is the mission of the CIAU to enrich the educational experience of the student athlete through a national sport program that fosters excellence through:

quality educational and athletic experience, unity of purpose, respect for autonomy, integrity and fair play, trust and mutual respect, equity and equality of experience.

The 45 CIAU members are members of six geographically aligned regional associations as follows:

The Atlantic Universities Athletic Association (AUAA), representing universities in the Atlantic provinces (men and women).

Quebec Student Sport Federation (QSSF), composed of universities and colleges in that province (men and women).

The Ontario Universities Athletic Association (OUAA), representing schools in that province (men).

Ontario Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Association (OWIAA), with membership limited to institutions in that province (women).

The Great Plains Athletic Conference (GPAC), including schools from Manitoba and Saskatchewan (men and women).

The Canada West Universities Athletic Association (CWUAA), with members from British Columbia and Alberta, as well as the University of Saskatchewan (men and women).

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES:

The CIAU is involved in a number of areas including:

- 1. Growth and Development
Staff members of various departments of Physical Education and Athletics are often active in local community recreation programs as well as provincial and national amateur sport organizations.
- 2. Establishment of Standards
Standards established for the operation of intercollegiate competitions have been used as a guideline for other amateur sport organizations.
- 3. Research
Research into the area of sports equipment, physical stress and training methods have been conducted using the facilities of CIAU members.
- 4. Facility Provision
University facilities throughout Canada have been made available for any number of non-university events from amateur football clinics to events of the XXIst Olympiad.
- 5. International Representation
At the international level, the CIAU is the official Canadian representative to the Federation Internationale du Sport Universitaire (FISU), the governing body for world university sport that is responsible for the organization of the World University Games (winter and summer).

CANADIAN PARKS AND RECREATION ASSOCIATION

In operation since 1945, the Canadian Parks and Recreation Association (CPRA) is a voluntary, not-for-profit, service, research and educational organization. CPRA is actively engaged in enhancing the quality of life of all Canadians through "the stimulation and advancement of national, provincial, regional and municipal parks, recreation and leisure services, facilities and programs in Canada."

CPRA offers services to develop and support the administration and technical abilities of members, citizens, communities and agencies, to improve the quality of programs and facilities, and to keep members informed of events which affect the profession and the quality of parks and recreation services.

The goals of CPRA are:

To acquaint Canadians with the significance of leisure in a changing society;

to assist in the development, organization and promotion of the parks and recreation service delivery system in Canada;

to develop policies for presentation at all levels of government and appropriate agencies on issues of significance to the parks and recreation movement in Canada.

CANADIAN SPORT COUNCIL

The Canadian Sport Council, a 104-member advocacy organization, is action-oriented, responsive to issues, and committed to open communication.

The Council is an essential source of education and information on sport in Canada to its members, all levels of government, the media, and the general public.

The Council speaks out on issues of importance, negotiates on behalf of its members, and promotes the interests, concerns and image of sport in Canada.

Partnership is the hallmark of the Council as it responds to the emerging needs of its members. The focus is on working together to develop collective responses to the pressing problems of the day. A case in point is the working group on harassment, a partnership of seven organizations, including the Council, which published Harassment in Sport: A Guide to Policies, Procedures and Resources, early in the fall of 1994. The partnership continues as the working group develops education and communication strategies to deal with the issue.

The annual membership fee of $350.00 entitles members to vote at the Annual General Assembly of Sport, to nominate and elect candidates for office, and to have a voice in determining the future of the Canadian sport system.

Among the Council's activities are:

Canadian Sport Awards Program, honouring outstanding achievement in sport through the annual Canadian Sport Awards Dinner, the Canadian Sport Award Reception (a highlight of each General Assembly) and the Canadian Airlines Athlete of the Month program.

Government Relations Program, designed to enhance the relationship between government and sport. Key to the process is a newly-developed policy book which encourages the federal government to use sport as a vehicle in addressing social and economic issues.

Tariff Remission Program, issuing certificates for the exemption of tariffs on certain equipment for provincial and national team athletes as determined by Revenue Canada.

The Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee, creating a ground-breaking mediation/arbitration model for sport.

General Assembly of Sport, bringing the sport community together in an annual national conference on issues of common concern.

SPORT MEDICINE AND SCIENCE COUNCIL OF CANADA

The Sport Medicine and Science Council of Canada (SMSCC), a multi-service organization, has been a major partner in the high performance sport system since 1978. The SMSCC provides quality medical, paramedical and scientific networks and programs to high performance athletes.

The SMSCC membership is comprised of four professional associations, namely:

The Canadian Academy of Sport Medicine (CASM)
The Canadian Society for Exercise Physiology (CSEP)
The Canadian Athletic Therapists Association (CATA)
The Sports Physiotherapy Division of the Canadian Physiotherapy Association (SPD)

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES:

1. Medical Monitoring

The Canadian Athlete Monitoring Program (CAMP) and the Medical History Injury Reporting System (MHIRS) provide Canadian athletes with a continuous and effective health care program. Effective medical monitoring can help prevent injuries and overtraining, contribute to improved performance and facilitate future sport specific research.

2. Sport Nutrition

Proper nutrition is an essential ingredient in athlete performance. The sport nutrition program identifies qualified nutritional counsellors and educators who are interested in providing information and counselling services to high performance athletes. Resource materials include workbooks, travel handouts and educational videos. Workshops are also available.

3. Medical Mission

The Council coordinates a Mobile Athlete Sport Hospital (MASH unit) which includes medical and therapy supplies and equipment utilized by the Canadian Medical Team at international competitions. Equipment and supplies are available on loan to qualified personnel who work and travel directly with national athletes and teams.

The Council assists in the recruitment and selection of physicians and therapists for Canadian medical teams at international major games, international and national championships and national training camps.

4. Publications

The Council's publications provide valuable sport medicine and science information for the high performance system. Publications include a quarterly newsletter, a sport medicine directory listing medical, paramedical and sport science professionals at home and abroad, and technical bulletins.

CANADIAN CENTRE FOR DRUG-FREE SPORT

The Canadian Centre for Drug-Free Sport (CCDS) is a national, non-profit organization whose mission is to achieve drug-free sport in Canada.

The CCDS promotes a comprehensive approach involving research, education, advocacy, detection and deterrence.

Education

Supportive environments leading to favourable social change insures the continued value of sport in Canada. The CCDS provides athletes, young Canadians, coaches, parents and educators with the information and tools they need to participate in Canada's national campaign for drug-free sport.

Doping Control

Doping control upholds the integrity of sport by protecting athletes' rights to drug-free competition. The CCDS is responsible for all doping control activities in Canada.

Deterrence

While sport organizations and governments are responsible for sanctions, the CCDS ensures the availability, fairness and legal integrity of appeals and investigations surrounding doping infractions.

Advocacy

The CCDS plays a central role in promoting international harmony and the necessary social changes required to prevent doping in sport.

Research

The CCDS promotes, solicits and supports research on all aspects of doping in sport. With a better understanding of the issues, the CCDS can help develop more effective interventions for drug-free sport.

Through the Spirit of Sport campaign, the CCDS works in close partnership with national and provincial sport organizations, coaching associations, governments, educators, sport specialists and others whose combined efforts can reduce, prevent or eliminate doping in Canadian sport.

CANADA GAMES

The Canada Games were established to provide a high calibre, national, multi-sport competition every two years for the best young athletes from every province and territory in Canada. The Canada Games have served to encourage greater public awareness of amateur sport in Canada, profiling some of Canada's future Olympians and the competitions in which they participate, while fostering national unity through friendly competition.

The 1995 Canada Winter Games were held February 19 to March 4 in Grande Prairie, Alberta. Sports included were: alpine skiing, artistic gymnastics, badminton, biathlon, boxing, cross-country skiing, curling, fencing, figure skating, freestyle skiing, hockey, judo, rhythmic gymnastics, ringette, shooting, speed skating, squash, synchronized swimming, table tennis, weightlifting, wheelchair basketball and disabled skiing.

The next Canada Summer Games will be held August 10-23, 1997 in Brandon, Manitoba. Sports will include: archery, baseball, basketball, canoeing, cycling, diving, field hockey, rowing, rugby, sailing, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track and field, volleyball, water skiing, and wrestling.

ARCTIC WINTER GAMES

The Arctic Winter Games are staged every two years in northern communities and bring together athletes from the Yukon, Northwest Territories, Northern Alberta, Greenland, Russia and Alaska. Alberta's first involvement was in 1986.

The Arctic Winter Games are intended to provide a common ground for developing northern athletes and for promoting cultural and social interchange among northern regions. The achievement of individual excellence in athletics, while a desirable result of the competitions, is not a primary motive. The fundamental purpose of the Games is to encourage mass participation by all ages, cultures and walks of life in athletic activities and cultural events.

The next Arctic Winter Games are scheduled to be held in March of 1996 in Chugiak-Eagle River, Alaska. Northern Alberta will be represented in the following sports: badminton, cross-country skiing, curling, dog mushing, figure skating, hockey, indoor soccer, speedskating, biathlon, volleyball and wrestling.

COMMONWEALTH GAMES

The Commonwealth Games Federation, based in London, England, is the governing authority for the Games. The Federation establishes rules and regulations, and awards Games to host cities. All members of the Commonwealth may take part in the "Friendly Games" as they are called.

Present rules provide for the following disciplines to be on the program.

Two compulsory sports - athletics and swimming; eight others chosen by the host country from: badminton, bowls, boxing, cycling, judo, shooting, table tennis, weightlifting, wrestling, diving, synchronized swimming, rhythmic gymnastics, archery, canoeing, fencing, gymnastics, rowing, yachting, squash and tennis.

The purpose of the Games is to promote goodwill and understanding among the diverse peoples of the Commonwealth. The cultural activities, which have formed an important element in recent Games, tend to enhance the understanding and knowledge of the different peoples of the Commonwealth.

The XV Commonwealth Games were held in Victoria, British Columbia, August 18-28, 1994.

The XVI Commonwealth Games will be held in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, September 10-20, 1998.

WORLD UNIVERSITY GAMES

The World University Games have been in existence since 1947 with a steady upward growth pattern. In 1981, Bucharest, Romania played host to 5,000 participants from 85 countries, making the biennial Games second only to the Olympics in terms of participation and calibre of competition. Canada has participated in the Games since 1964.

In July of 1983, Edmonton was host to the XIIth Summer Universiade Games, the first time that these Games have been staged in North America. More than 80 countries were represented.

The Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union is the official Canadian representative to the Federation Internationale du Sport Universitaire (FISU), the governing body for world university sports which is responsible for the organization of the World University Games (winter and summer).

The 1995 Winter Games occurred in Jaca, Spain, February 18-26, 1995. The next Summer Games will be held in Fukuoka, Japan, August 23-September 9, 1995.

Future World University Games are tentatively scheduled as follows:

1997 Summer - Sicily, Italy
1999 Summer - Spain
